

Moth hunt is a walk in the park

HELPERS of all ages are welcome to join in a walk across Victoria Park, Stretford, to see if they can find any moths.

Experts from Manchester Museum will be on hand to answer any questions.

The event is the park Friends group's contribution to National Moth

Night, which provides valuable information to scientists about the insects which are currently dwindling in numbers.

Traps, nets and torches will be provided.

Anyone wanting to take part is asked to be at the community building at the Davyhulme Road East park at 7pm on May 15.
